I recently returned from an incredible trip to Spiti Valley with Nomads, and it truly exceeded all my expectations. Every moment of the journey was filled with awe—whether it was the stunning mountain views, the remote villages, or the deep cultural immersion. A huge shoutout to our captain, Ritik, who made the experience even more special. His expertise, great sense of humor, and personal care ensured that everything went smoothly, making this the best trip I've ever had. Thank you, Nomads, for organising such a memorable adventure!

Thanks, Trip With Nomads team, for seamless execution, ensuring fun and safety for everyone. This has been by far one of my best group trips where there were no kalesh between each other and company.

Stays were top-notch and above expectation specifically for Tabo and Kaza. Tempo journey with skilled Ustaadji Lucky ji made entire trip adventurous, safe and enjoyable. We experienced thrilling roads, falling stones and even best snowfall and Ustaadji managed everything ❄️

Special thanks to our lovely captain @Vishal Captain for being the most amazing person who tirelessly worked everyday to ensure that everything was in place at all times. Your leadership skill of handling people of all age groups far older than you with such maturity at age of 20 is something I am taking away as a learning. Hats off to you for being extremely entertaining and joyful keeping all our worries away and at the same time handling biggest Kalesh all by yourself.

Looking forward to travel with you again 🥰🥰

It has been a mesmerizing experience to travel with such wonderful people, getting to interact with the locals, know their culture and the way they celebrate life, a chance to witness their lives while residing at the Home stays (I miss you Tanzin aunty, Sahil and Durga!). The sound of the river from every corner of the city is a melody. If having Vishal Arya as your team captain and Lucky Ustadji behind the wheels is in your itinerary then your trip is definitely going to be a Humorous rollercoaster! Thank you to tripwithnomads for making this happen and gifting me a luggage full of memories to take back home.

Just wanted to say a huge thank you for making my Spiti Valley trip an unforgettable adventure! Your exceptional planning, coordination, and support throughout the trip was amazing. Your team's dedication to providing an outstanding travel experience is truly commendable. Your team's hard work and dedication didn't go unnoticed, and I'm so grateful for the opportunity to explore this incredible region.

I wish you the best for future endeavors!

And the most important part was 'our captain Animesh Kumar', the best captain and would like to go on more trips with TRIPWITHNOMADS

FAQs

1. Is Spiti open in winter (Oct–Feb)?

Yes, Spiti is accessible during these months but only via the Shimla–Kinnaur route. The Manali route closes after heavy snowfall at Rohtang & Kunzum Pass (usually by late September/early October).

2. How cold does it get in Spiti during winter?

Temperatures can drop to -20°C or lower in peak winter (Dec–Feb). October–November are relatively milder (0°C to -10°C).

3. Will we see snow during the trip?

Yes! From late October onwards, expect snow in Kaza, Kibber, Langza, Hikkim, and nearby villages. Roads often get snow-covered in Jan–Feb.

4. Is it safe to travel to Spiti in winter?

It's safe if you're traveling with an experienced group/organizer. Roads may get slippery, but local drivers are skilled for winter terrain. We avoid risky night drives.

5. Can beginners join a winter Spiti trip?

Yes, but be prepared for extreme cold. Basic fitness and mental readiness are important since weather conditions can get harsh.

6. What kind of stay is provided in winter?

Mostly heated homestays or guesthouses with traditional wood/coal stoves (bukhari). Hotels in Kaza remain closed after October. Staying with locals is the highlight!

7. What should I pack for a winter Spiti trip?

- Heavy winter jacket
- Thermal inners
- Woolen caps, gloves, muffler
- Waterproof snow boots
- Lip balm, moisturizer, sunglasses
- Power banks (electricity can be limited)

8. Will there be network & internet in Spiti during winter?

Only Airtel & Jio works in most villages. Internet is very weak and sometimes unavailable in peak winters.

9. What about washrooms & water in winter?

Due to freezing pipes, many homestays provide dry pit toilets. Warm water for bathing is limited, usually bucket-based.

10. Is AMS (Altitude Mountain Sickness) a concern in winter?

Yes, since Spiti is above 10,000 ft. Staying hydrated, eating light, and acclimatizing in Shimla/Recong Peo before heading up helps.

FAQs

11. Which months are best for winter Spiti trips?

- October–November: Clear skies, less harsh cold, beautiful landscapes.
- December–February: Extreme snow, frozen rivers, high chances of spotting snow leopards & wildlife.

12. Can elderly people or kids join winter trips?

It's not recommended for children under 10 or elderly with health issues, due to extreme cold and high altitude.

13. Are all Spiti villages accessible in winter?

Yes, most villages like Kaza, Kibber, Langza, Hikkim, Komic remain open, but roads can temporarily close after heavy snowfall. Remote treks (like Pin Valley) are not accessible.

14. Can we see the famous Snow Leopard in winter?

Yes! Jan–Feb is the best time for snow leopard spotting around Kibber & Pin Valley with local trackers. And it all depend on your luck.

15. How many days are required for a winter Spiti trip?

A minimum of 7–9 days from Delhi/Chandigarh. Shorter trips are not advised due to long travel time and acclimatization needs.
